

NOTE & COMMENT

THE GOLDSBOROUGH BILL

Recently the United States Congress passed by a huge majority the Goldsbrough Bill, which is in reality only the stabilizing of the American dollar so that it will buy as much tomorrow, or next year, as it will today. The Bill passed the lower House without a hitch, but it has yet to be sanctioned by the Senate, where it is said it will receive more opposition than it did in the House.

The Goldsbrough Bill was formed in an attempt to stabilize the dollar and the country's representatives are planning to do by legislative fiat what financiers and economists for many generations have been unable to do.

The purpose of the Goldsbrough is simple in the extreme. It will attempt to keep the dollar at always the same purchasing power. For instance of a pound of butter is selling today at 25c, and as long as the supply and demand remained the same, then that would be the price for all time.

There are many phases attached to this bill, which the United States Senate will no doubt give thorough investigation, and there are many benefits to be derived. Notably the fact that wages will be more uniform and also supplies. With these conditions on equal basis the worker would get a fair wage for his services and thus be able to pay a better price for his needs. This is the beginning of a new business cycle immediately, and it only would remain to be seen whether or not the stabilizing of the dollar would bring about the end of the business depression. The plan seems possible, in view of the fact that there is a surplus of goods in every country in the world, yet we are all suffering because we haven't the means to buy the real necessities in life.

Should the United States Senate pass this Bill to stabilize the dollar, that country will be the only nation to do so, for in every other country money fluctuates at every turn.

Grand Forks Club Prepare for Sport

A working day was held recently at the G.F.A.A. grounds and quite an improvement was made, such as putting up a new back stop, fixing basket ball grounds, horse shoe pitching grounds, etc. A good days work was put in, and following this the ladies served supper, which was certainly appreciated by the workmen.

An interesting game of ball was played after supper.

The Grand Forks Athletic Association are having some real days of sport and expect to have better times from now on. They are now playing every Wednesday afternoon, so jump in your car and join them. Never mind your old horse shoes, balls, bats, etc. They furnish nearly everything but the habit, for a membership fee of 50c for one year. Everybody is welcome.

FARMER NEVER SATISFIED

Man is never satisfied. "When it's hot he wants it cold; and when it's cold he wants it hot. Always wanting what is not." Thus with the farmers of the Carbon district. For three years they wanted rain and didn't get it. Now this year they are getting the rain; and more rain, but no warm weather. Now the general cry of the farmer is for warm weather. So far this year we haven't had a real warm day. In spite of the continual rain, the crops do not seem to be backward and wheat is shooting up rapidly. Warm, sunny weather would help though.

ORATORY VS. PRESS DEBATED

The more eloquent arguments of J. J. W. Grenier triumphed in a debate held at the Parish hall under the auspices of the Magloire's Men's Society on Monday last when Mr. Grenier supported the argument that the press was of less educational value than public lectures. Nelson McClure took the affirmative and offered a well-thoughtout speech in which he suggested that the press could reach a far wider audience than the public speaker.—Drumheller Mail.

Notice to Local Golf Enthusiasts

GOLF PLAYOFFS POSTPONED

Golf Playoffs for District 15 of the Alberta Country Districts Golf Association, which were to commence at Carbon on May 29th, have been postponed on account of the wet weather, which has made impossible the mowing and sanding of the greens, besides almost stopping all traffic on roads in the district.

ALBERTA NEWS

The new provincial highways tree-color map, the first of its kind ever to be issued in Alberta, is now ready for distribution, according to the provincial Minister of Public Works.

Shooting himself through the mouth with a small calibre rifle, Edison Oliver, 46, a pioneer resident of Nisbet, a district 10 miles east and 8 miles north of Olds, committed suicide on Friday last. Oliver had gone to the barn, apparently, to hitch up his team and start harrowing. Some time later his body was discovered with a rifle lying nearby. Deceased is survived by his wife and six children.

Mr. Justice Ewing in Supreme Court chambers last Thursday afternoon granted Spooner Oils an interim injunction and set trial of the action which will test the validity of the Turner Valley Gas Conservation Act peremptorily for June 6. This frees Spooner Oils from obeying an order which would cut down its production to less than five barrels per day.

Rodney Donaldson, railway engineer, was to switch from freight to passenger last Friday, but he is dead. His last trip with a freight proved to be his last in life, for early Friday morning the engine of which he was in charge slipped from the tracks near Lethbridge, and flames, flaring from oil seeping from wrecked tank cars, lit up the sky as he died.

Miss Bernita McMahan, 21-year old graduate nurse of Edmonton, was acquitted by a jury in the criminal court last week of manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Faye Christensen, 21, of Edmonton, following a two-way auto crash on the Calgary-Edmonton highway, three miles north of Leduc, on Sunday, April 10.

His Honor Judge A. M. Macdonald of Calgary will preside at the sittings of the District Court, which opens at the court house, Drumheller for the remainder of this week. There are 17 civil cases, one criminal case and 15 naturalization applications on the docket.

The Great Pyramid

A writer in the Honolulu Advertiser in March, 1928 had the following interesting letter about the Great Pyramid of Egypt:

Many people have heard of the great Pyramid of Egypt, but few know of the wonderful truth contained within this huge structure. The Great Pyramid is the original pyramid, all others being but mere imitations of this stone witness. It was built, presumably by Melchisedek, about 4000 years ago, and in its pristine glory was covered with beautiful casing stones. The Great Pyramid is the largest structure in the world, covering 13 acres of land, and is about 500 feet high.

There is only one entrance in this building, but within the pyramid there are some wonderful passages and chambers, which scientists and Bible scholars have discovered, after much study and investigation, contain great symbolic truths. The whole history of mankind, from the creation of Adam to the present can be traced within its passages and chambers; yes, and also the future of the human race is foretold by this marvelous creation of Adam, of his fall; of the structure. The pyramid tells us of the Law Dispensation; of the birth of Jesus of His baptism and resurrection; and, more wonderful still, where He would be born and when. All of the important events of history of the world from the time of Christ are found in the downward passage. The Reformation and the French revolution are plainly shown in the measurements of the lower end of the passage and also at the well mouth. The measurements of

Cut Worms are Reported Active

While the cut worm menace has not been particularly serious in the Carbon district, some recent reports state that considerable damage has been done by these pests this spring. Recently Gottlieb Echell reported that an hundred acre field of wheat on his farm was almost 30 per cent damaged. J. F. Ohlhauser also reports some damage from cutworms.

The wet spring has been one factor keeping down the cut worms and little damage was expected this year from this source. With the season now well advanced, is not anticipated that the cut worm damage will be much greater.

Almost 10 Inches Moisture This Yr.

Since the the last issue we have had considerable more rain. On Saturday night almost an inch of rain fell, and on Sunday there was a regular deluge and Carbon streets were running in streams. The Knee Hill creek began to rise rapidly although no flooding occurred as the rain came from the north instead of the flood rain from the west. Gardens and roads suffered a little with the heavy rain and running water, and roads were impassable for the week end and 24th of May holiday. Total rainfall, according to the readings of the local compiler Mr. Peters, for the week ending May 25th, was 2.16 inches. Total moisture for the month ending May 25th was almost eight and one-half inches, and total moisture since the first of the year is 9.47 inches.

While seeding last week, George Bolster had the misfortune to be knocked down and receive an injury to his leg caused by his team running away. The horses sustained no injury, but the seeder was broken and a half mile of fence torn down.—Della Times.

Who Does Your Printing?

All business houses need more or less printed matter, all of which is within the possibilities of the local printer. Yet how prone many are to pass up the home printer and let the orders go to city offices which have no interest whatever in rural communities except to get printing orders and the cash to pay for them. Business men, remember that the home paper is constantly promoting the interests of the home community and you owe it to yourself and your local paper to back up these efforts by at least having your printed matter done locally.

Liberty vs. License

The kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby, culminating in the finding of the body of the murdered infant, has served to focus public attention in the United States as no other single act has done in past years, upon the extent to which lawlessness has developed in that country. Thousands of people are aroused now who formerly regarded with indifference the daily record of murders, kidnappings, bootlegging outrages, and other gangster crimes, including open warfare between these gangs in the streets of large cities, which filled the columns of their newspapers. There is now a searching for causes of this prevailing lawlessness in the United States, but which is not characteristic of other countries.

And in seeking for the underlying cause, investigators have found they had not far to go, and that it is not necessary to delve into any great depths to discover wherein lies the basic weakness upon which present day American society is founded. It is for the people of the United States to apply their own remedies, but the prevailing state of affairs across the imaginary boundary line, and the causes therefore, should have a lesson for the people of this Dominion.

Mistake number one was made in the United States when they went from one extreme to another,—that is, from the extreme puritanism of the early New England settlers to the almost uncontrolled license of later days. From an era of unyielding rigid strictness and severity in the application of rules of personal conduct, the United States set up a fetish of personal liberty. In reaction against what had been, the public schools were made purely secular, the teaching of religion, the precepts of the Bible, and the moral law which is founded in true religion, were banned. It was argued that the churches and the home should alone concern themselves with religion and morals, and that the state should not enter such spheres, but, remaining strictly secular and neutral, let youth in its most plastic, character-forming years be trained, or not trained, in the home and on one day in the week in church or Sunday School.

The net result was that millions were not trained, Sunday became a holiday, a day of sports and amusement. The provision of a happy, sensible medium between the austere "blue" Sunday and a day of carnival was overlooked and neglected. And the children of these millions, and their children in turn, grew up in an atmosphere almost entirely secular, pleasure loving, taught to cater to their personal appetites and passions, rather than to look upon life and its responsibilities and opportunities as a serious thing.

But mankind must have a god to which it looks for those things desired and for which man craves. So, living a life of the present, a life of pleasure and personal gratification, tens of millions in the United States set up and worshipped the Almighty Dollar as their god. The man who could amass great wealth was a "great" man. He was the one looked up to in the community, to whom others paid deference, and who was held up to the youth of the day as a worthy example to follow. The more money a man had, and the quicker he was able to get it, the more successful he was held to be, the more to be envied and emulated.

It was natural and inevitable, therefore, that the ingenuity of men was directed to discovering "get rich quick" means and methods. The morality, the lawfulness of the means and methods were considered less important than the tangible results gained. The methods of "Big Business" of half a century ago, the treatment meted out to the Indians of the western plains who were robbed, plundered, murdered and their lands taken from them, now have their counterpart in the gangster methods of bootlegging, kidnapping, and all forms of organized vice and crime.

The United States, too, has made a god of "Bigness." "The biggest in the world" is the favorite slogan of their people. Everywhere the boast is heard that this or that is the biggest in the world. In the race to create big cities they have created breeding grounds for crime; in the race to create mammoth mass production industries they have created mass unemployment leading to want and suffering and more crime. The very inventions and machines created for the benefit of their people are now used to assist the criminal element to defraud, despoil and destroy people.

Finally, the United States set up another god in the name of "Liberty," but which was so freely interpreted that it quickly became license. Liberty is a fine thing; it is the birthright of all people although through the ages man has wrongfully denied it to his fellow man. Possessing the power for the time being, man has denied to other men liberty of conscience as well as liberty of body and action. But liberty is one thing, and license another and entirely different thing. Liberty can only be enjoyed where there is law and order; law impartially but strictly enforced that order may be maintained. Let law be weakened and brought into contempt and liberty is destroyed. Might not right then takes the upper hand, liberty is lost, and all become the slaves of might.

The United States today, to a greater extent than any other nation on earth, is paying the penalty for disregard of the true tenets of all religion and of moral law which is based and founded in these religious tenets, and because it has seen fit to set up other false gods to worship. The worship of the "Golden Calf" sent an old world nation wandering in the wilderness for forty years. It paid for its departure from the truth. Other nations since then have paid. The United States is paying now in the scourge which the lawless elements it has developed are now laying upon it. And all nations will inevitably pay if they disregard moral laws and replace true liberty with license. That is the lesson for the people of Canada to take to heart.

League Of Nations

Is Greatest Human Agency For Preserving Peace, Says Sir Robert Borden

Expressing the belief that the League of Nations is educating the nations to live in co-operation, Sir Robert Borden, Canada's war time premier, told the League of Nations Society in Canada, at its annual meeting at Ottawa, that he believed the League was the greatest human agency for preserving peace of the world.

Disappointment at the efforts of the League to achieve world disarmament and in the response which had been made to the world disarmament petition was expressed by Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P., in a short address.

Dr. H. M. Tory, of Ottawa, was re-elected president of the society and three new names were added to the list of officers. Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, was elected honorary vice-president; H. J. McNulty, of Ottawa, becomes honorary treasurer, and John W. Dufoe, editor-in-chief of the Winnipeg Free Press, Winnipeg, was chosen as a vice-president.

Tells Dyspeptics What To Eat

Strict Diets Often Unnecessary.

It is a well known fact that some foods have a strong tendency to produce excessive stomach acidity and consequent indigestion. By omitting from daily meals those foods that experience proves do not agree and limiting the diet to certain tasteless unappetizing foods, stomach troubles may in many instances be slowly overcome. Nine times in ten, however, indigestion, gas, etc., are due to excessive acidity and the premature souring of food in the stomach. Keep the stomach clean and sweet by freeing it of this extra acid and then sufferers can eat the foods they like best and as much as they want in reason and have no stomach trouble at all. Thousands of people do this daily by merely taking after every meal a little Bismarck Magnesia, which can be had at any good drug store in either powder or tablet form. Bismarck Magnesia instantly neutralizes stomach acids, stops food fermentation and meals digest as naturally and painlessly as in the stomach of a healthy child. Stomach comfort means a lot and most folks like good things to eat. Enjoy them both by making Bismarck Magnesia your daily after-eating protection.

British Now Providing Excellent Market For Our Wheat, Bacon and Cheese

Canada is selling more to Great Britain, detailed figures recently tabled in the British House of Commons revealed.

British purchases of Canadian wheat in the four months ending April 30 amounted to 9,104,000 hundredweights of 112 pounds, compared with 7,074,000 hundredweights in the corresponding period of 1931. Imports of Russian wheat dropped again. For the month of April, they were only 5,200 hundredweights against 1,337,000 in April, 1931.

Imports of Canadian bacon for the four months ending April 30, amounted to 57,275 hundredweights, a heavy increase compared to 4,693 for the corresponding period of 1931.

Sales of Canadian hams rose from 18,492 hundredweights in the first four months of 1931 to 30,856 hundredweights this year.

Imports of Canadian cheese had a remarkable increase in the four-month period of from 6,385 to 21,065 hundredweights.

Salmon gained from 28,984 to 52,398 hundredweights, unmanufactured Canadian tobacco from 3,880,000 pounds to 6,863,000 pounds (weight).

The total British purchases of Canadian merchandise in the quarter ending March 31, it was also shown, were £8,360,000 against £6,160,000 in the corresponding quarter of 1931.

United Kingdom products exported to Canada in the quarter ending March 31, totalled £3,475,000 against £4,048,000 in the corresponding quarter of last year.

Serious Marketing Situation

British Columbia Growers Expect Surplus Of Apples This Year

A serious marketing situation faces British Columbia fruit-growers this year due to the heavy increase in the crops, according to E. J. Chambers, president of the associated growers of the province. Preliminary reports, he said, indicated this year's apple crop would show a gain of a million boxes over 1931.

This means, Mr. Chambers added, that a market for 1,000 carloads would have to be found outside western Canada.

NEW INVENTION DOES AWAY WITH COOKING ODORS

Even fish and cauliflower bow down to Canapar Cookery Parchment

BETTER, CHEAPER AND EASIER COOKING

Delicious as cauliflower, cabbage and certain other vegetables are, they have imposed a heavy penalty on people who fearlessly cooked them. Not to mention those who had to suffer the odor without enjoying the finished product. The same thing is equally true of fish.

Canapar Cookery Parchment, a very ingenious invention, does away with this annoyance entirely. While sealing in odors, it also retains flavor and food value. Cooking in Canapar actually parallels the famous French method of simmering and confining food and its flavor in the closed casserole.

You buy Canapar in a large envelope of handy-size sheets which may be rinsed out and used over and over again because they won't absorb odors. When boiling vegetables you simply wet the Canapar and make a bag similar to a pudding bag. If you steam them, you line the steamer with Canapar, arrange food and seasoning, and fold back corners of the Canapar to prevent steam from dripping back. You can actually cook three vegetables at once in the same saucepan, this way—save fuel—and the flavors will not intermingle.

Steamed, or boiled, fish comes out firm, solid and swimming in its own juice. No odors. No sticky steamer or saucepan to clean up afterwards.

Line your roasting pan with Canapar, then the fats and juice can't burn. Meat is more succulent and there is no scouring or scraping of the pan afterwards.

Many women use Canapar for a dish cloth—it is so silky and satisfactory, and doesn't spread lint.

You'll never be without Canapar once you start using it. It saves time and money. Made by the makers of the famous PARASANI Heavy Waxed Paper in the Green Box.

MANITOBA IS NOT IN FAVOR OF A WHEAT QUOTA

Winnipeg, Man.—Establishment of a wheat quota at the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference would not be in the best interests of wheat producers, although sale of western wheat is of the utmost importance. This was the chief of six points agreed upon at a conference of Manitoba agricultural interests called by Premier John Bracken to formulate Manitoba's views for submission to the Dominion Government prior to the conference.

Other points agreed upon were: Stabilization of exchange is important.

Wider markets are necessary for all varieties of Canadian farm produce.

An Empire intelligence marketing board is desirable.

Wider facilities should be provided for the distribution of British films throughout Canada.

Canadian delegates at the Imperial Conference should be asked to give preference to British goods most needed by Canadian consumers such as woollen goods, household articles, textiles, boots and shoes, seeds and plants.

A special committee was appointed to draft the suggestions and instructed to sit in with a conference to be held of representatives of boards of trade and industries other than agriculture. Findings of both Manitoba conferences will first be laid before a conference of the four western provinces at Regina, June 20, when a submission embodying the viewpoint of western Canada generally will be prepared.

Low Rates On Grain

Transportation Of Grain From Fort William To Montreal Cheapest Ever

Montreal, Que.—The Gazette published the following:

New record low rates of 3½ cents a bushel for the transportation of grain from Fort William to Montreal have been accepted during the last two days. It was announced 10 days ago that five cents a bushel was being offered and accepted, and there was a report that a rate of 4½ cents was even offered. Since then the situation has dropped from 'bad to worse' and several shipowners have decided to lay-up their vessels rather than operate them at a loss.

"Though small steamers are carrying grain at this abnormally low figure, it is maintained that no mathematical computations or calculations will enable their owners to produce a profit from the operation. It is even said grain cannot be carried profitably at seven cents a bushel, though several firms decided to continue accepting the lower rate in the hope that the situation would improve during the season."

Bombay Riots

Hindus and Moslems Continue To Engage In Street Battles

Bombay, India.—Fresh sporadic rioting between Hindus and Moslems broke out in Bombay, despite the presence of alert British soldiers, and before it was checked 11 more persons had been killed and 98 injured.

Thus the toll of the communal fighting, which has flared intermittently for some days, rose to 99 dead and 948 wounded.

British troops frequently opened fire to check occasional street battles. There was still some looting, but the authorities expressed confidence that they were gaining control of the city through the energetic action of the soldiers.

Doukhobors Protest

Write Letter To Press and Send Message To The Hague

Vancouver, B.C.—Doukhobors facing imprisonment to nude parading have written to the press and various public organizations, including the "anti-militaristic bureau of The Hague," protesting against their treatment.

In a letter to a local newspaper, the Doukhobors state:

"It is a tragedy when one misunderstands another. And this is just what is happening today, without any cause whatever. Innocent people are being sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

"We know that truth is bought on Golgotha, and will ever remain there. We forgive everybody who has mistreated us. But when we come to our children and their mothers, this is where we stop and say 'There is no excuse for civilized people to force others into conditions that they are not able to bear. The whole world has been aroused by the L'ndbergh case. But what is going on in Nelson; this is worse than kidnapping—a drama full of man's inhumanity to man.'"

Representatives of the Doukhobors have sent a cablegram to the "anti-militaristic bureau at The Hague," protesting against their treatment.

"We Doukhobors—Sons of Freedom of Canada—appeal to you," runs the message. "Please raise your voice in the name of trampled truth. Seven hundred in jail. More than half already sentenced to three years' imprisonment. The same conviction awaits the rest—just for appearing nude in protest against brutality. Our children forcibly taken away from their mothers. Please take this matter seriously, or you will be guilty before God and all idealists. Remember our struggle is truth. 'If you are brothers of same faith you can not be silent.'"

Tariffs Hurt Trade

No Inclination On Canada's Part To Enlarge Trade With U.S.

San Francisco.—W. L. McGregor, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, told the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce that in the face of existing American tariff laws there is no inclination on Canada's part to enlarge its trade with the United States.

Mr. McGregor said he was not entirely satisfied in his own mind that the commercial treatment Canada had been accorded at Washington was in conformity with enlightened business opinion in the United States. If United States business interests are not satisfied with the present economic relationships between their country and Canada, he suggested, they might make themselves a little more articulate on the subject.

An International Park

Waterton Lakes Park In Alberta, To Be Internationalized

Ottawa, Ont.—A bill designed to make the Waterton Lakes National Park, in Alberta, a portion of the Waterton-Glacier International Park, was given first reading in the House of Commons. Hon. T. G. Murphy, Minister of the Interior, sponsoring the bill, said the Waterton Lakes Park adjoined the Glacier Park, a United States property in Montana. Some time ago the United States government had suggested that the two parks be regarded as an international park and had passed legislation to that end.

Hamburg, Germany.—Eight hundred Young Communists were arrested here for displaying Communist flags and signs at a picnic. They were released after they had been booked at police headquarters. The police had granted permission for the picnic on conditions there be no Communist banners or signs.

Thinks Judges Underpaid

Ottawa, Ont.—Canadian judges are too numerous and underpaid, Premier R. B. Bennett told the House of Commons. The judiciary as a whole does not reflect the genius of the legal profession from which it is recruited, and in too many instances political patronage, rather than individual merit, has elevated a man to the bench.

Churchill Cattle Shipment

Expected Cattle Cargo To Leave Early In August

Churchill, Man.—The first boat to arrive here this summer will return with a shipment of cattle to Europe. While arrangements have been made for the shipping of 2,000,000 bushels of grain via Hudson Bay, the cattle cargo is likely to leave here early in August, before the wheat shipments start.

It is stated here a stockyard will be constructed near the dock. Hay will be brought here from The Pas.

Saskatoon, Sask.—The possibility of huge shipments of wheat through Churchill to the Spillers Ltd. Mills, at Cardiff and London, England, was disclosed in a statement issued by James M. Stevenson, K.C., president of the Board of Trade. Mr. Stevenson said that negotiations had been opened with the British milling firm through the trade through Churchill committee of the Board of Trade.

Irish Free State Will Be Represented

Eamon De Valera Is To Attend Ottawa Conference

Dublin, Irish Free State.—President Eamon de Valera of the Irish Free State said he would personally attend the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference in July if government business did not interfere.

The president did not name other members of the Free State representation, although he said it was likely three ministers of his government would accompany him.

Spain Requires Wheat

Government Carrying On Negotiations For Large Purchases

Madrid, Spain.—Financial circles said the Spanish Government had approached local branches of foreign banks in an attempt to arrange payment for the contemplated importation of 100,000 tons (about 3,733,000 bushels) of wheat.

The result of the negotiations was not known, but the government wants to spread the payment over periods of three, six and nine months, it was understood, the wheat to be bought from Canada, the United States and Argentina.

Banking circles said a government decree ordering the purchase of the wheat, expected soon, would bring Spain's total importations to 200,000 tons (about 7,466,000 bushels), but that it probably would be necessary to import another 200,000 tons before the new crop is available in July, since the domestic supply is exhausted.

U.S. Senate Refuses To Legalize Beer

First Senate Roll Call Brings Overwhelming Defeat

Washington.—The United States senate has refused to legalize beer.

The first senate roll call for beer since prohibition brought overwhelming defeat. The main vote was on an amendment by Senator Tydings, Democrat, Missouri, to the revenue bill to legalize 2.75 beer and tax it 24 cents a gallon to help finance a $1,500,000,000 public construction programme.

Just previously the senate had turned down—60 to 23—a proposal by Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, to alter the Tydings amendment to make it allow four per cent. alcohol content.

Eleven Democrats voted with 12 Republicans for the Bingham four per cent. amendment.

Liberian Atrocities Reported To League

Natives Have Been Burned Alive By Frontier Military Force

Geneva, Switzerland.—The burning alive of many men, women and children by the Liberian frontier military force was reported to the League of Nations in a communication signed on behalf of the British, United States and French governments.

These atrocities, the report asserted, were committed against tribesmen of the Kru coast.

The Liberian delegate submitted a memorandum to the League's Liberian commission confirming the burning of 44 villages and the killing of 81 men, 49 women and 29 children.

OUR NATIONAL RADIO TO BE BEST IN WORLD

Ottawa, Ont.—Harmony reigned in the House of Commons when the radio control bill was under review. Party lines were forgotten, suggestions and advice flew back and forth across the Chamber and in complete unanimity the measure was given second reading and all but one or two clauses passed through committee.

The bill would establish a Canadian radio broadcasting commission to control a nationalized system of radio. With headquarters in Ottawa and branch offices throughout the Dominion, the commission of three would regulate broadcasting through its own chain of stations from coast to coast.

Premier R. B. Bennett, sponsor of the bill, said it was designed to give Canadians a broadcasting system "not excelled elsewhere in the world." It would assure Canadian control of Canadian broadcasting, free from foreign interference or influence.

Tentative salaries of $12,000 a year for the chairman and $10,000 each for the commissioners, were suggested by the Prime Minister. One commissioner will be French-speaking and one will be a radio engineer, possessing the necessary technical training. The commission, said Mr. Bennett, should be composed of men "with an excellent appreciation and understanding of the value of broadcasting to the nation and should have some understanding of what is pleasing to the major part of the people of this country in the form of programmes."

Indicating the harmony and co-operation that reigned throughout the discussion, the Prime Minister, insisting that politics will play no part in selecting the personnel of the commission, suggested to the Liberals they present a list of men acceptable to them. A further indication of this unusual spirit came when the Prime Minister asked for suggested penalties for infractions of broadcasting regulations and adopted the proposals of Major C. G. Power, Lib., Quebec South.

The provinces, the Prime Minister announced, will have something to say over programme selections.

Members of the commission must devote their full time to the work. They will be barred from having any private business ties, especially relating to radio or broadcasting. Upon retirement, they will receive pensions. The chairman will hold office for 10 years, the vice-chairman for nine years and the commissioner for eight.

With an eye to the future, it was incorporated in the bill that control of television and other scientific developments, also would be placed under the commission.

Hunting For "Baychimo"

Another Airplane May Enter Search For Deserted Fur Ship

Point Barrow, Alaska.—A double aerial search for the "Baychimo," fur trading vessel anchored off the Arctic Coast, is in prospect here.

Pilot William R. Graham and Mrs. Edna Christofferson, Portland, Ore., aviators, surveyed 1,000 square miles of the rough ice pack without glimpsing the missing ship, which they believe carries a valuable cargo of furs.

Pilot Joe Crosson, noted northern aviator here with a motion picture cameraman on a scouting expedition, also said he might make exploratory flights in search of the "Baychimo."

Seattle, Wash.—To replace the steamship "Baychimo," lost along the Alaska coast in the ice floes of the seas of the north, the Danish Motorship "Karise" will sail from here in June for the Canadian Arctic via Vancouver, B.C.

The "Karise" was chartered by the Hudson's Bay Company from the Swenson Fur Trading Company for a voyage to Herschel Island and other Canadian Arctic posts. She will be manned by Canadian officers and crew.

GAS CONSERVATION PLAN NOT WELL WORKED OUT

An interesting court case will be held on June 6th when the Spooner and Richfield oil companies will attempt to gain a decision in their favor compelling the Government to drop the conservation plan which will cut down the production of these wells from 100 barrels of naptha a day to less than one barrel per day. In the meantime these two companies will not obey the direction of the government, but will continue to operate their wells wide open.

Spooner Oil company claims that it has orders for fifty carloads of their product and should the conservation plan be put into force they will not be able to fill these orders, thus hindering the business of the company. On the other hand, this same company has invested nearly thirty thousand dollars in the Bell Refining company and this refinery is taking their production. Should they be cut to four or five barrels of naptha a day they cannot operate.

It seems that after all is said and done that the Province of Alberta has not the right to put into effect a conservation scheme which will hinder the business of that province or any individual company. What Alberta wants is advancement and it is most certain that she will not advance in the oil industry should she compel the independent companies and operators from producing a product that it has taken hundreds of thousands of dollars to procure from the bowels of the earth. On the other hand it is not fair to the investors who own the stock of these companies. By the government's injunction all profits are cut off and prosperous oil wells are turned into defunct companies. And who is to benefit. Certainly not the Province of Alberta, which is putting these orders into effect. Nor are the citizens of the province of Alberta benefiting. The ones to benefit are some of the larger oil companies. The reason being that they are to be allowed to sell an imported product for a good price, and control the market price by keeping out local competition.

To the interested public it would almost seem that this Turner Valley gas conservation plan of the government of the Province of Alberta will turn out to be another mess, as was the Beauharnois power scheme in the province of Quebec, which was finally brought to light with drastic results and shame to those concerned.

We do not need to conserve the oil and gas supply of Turner Valley for the next generation. We may as well produce all the oil and gasoline we can in Alberta now, and reap the benefits of the investment that nearly every Alberta citizen made in Turner Valley a few years ago. There is a demand for every gallon of fuel produced in Alberta and a fair profit can be made at the present price. And at a much cheaper price.

We trust that Spooner Oils and Richfield will be given a fair dealing and should the feeling of the people of Alberta be expressed, these oil companies, as well as all other independent oil companies in Turner Valley, will be allowed to produce all, or nearly all that they are able to, every day in the year.

Should the government successfully defend this action, it is almost certain that the farmers of Alberta will not be able to get Turner Valley gas at nine cents per gallon at the well. They will have to use the refined and more expensive product of the larger companies—the ones who will receive the benefit of the conservation plan.

SPORT SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED

The experience of other Alberta towns would indicate that there is no reason why the town of Hanna should not take a more prominent place on the sport map. The development of sport is a splendid thing for the youth of any community, and more particularly in the towns and villages.

Gleichen produced a hockey team this year which won the intermediate championship of the province and gave the senior champs quite a struggle. Raymond has made a name for itself in basketball. Both these towns are considerably smaller than Hanna. The Camrose junior hockey team came close to eliminating Edmonton's crack juniors. Blairmore, Canmore, Lacombe and Okotoks have always been prominent in hockey with their home brews.

Our observations would lead us to believe that civic encouragement and proper coaching are the main essentials in developing a sport in a community. Give the boys encouragement, take a proper interest in their achievements and see that they are properly coached and the results obtained will be a surprise. (Hanna Herald)

A certain business man in our little town noted for his dry wit and humour happened to be a little indisposed the other day. Fortunately (or perhaps unfortunately) his spouse happened to be entertaining that afternoon at one of these so called "tea fights."

After listening (or being forced to listen) to the usual "stuff" at the "fight" he was accosted on the street the next day by an intimate friend who casually asked him how he liked the fact of having to stay home while his spouse entertained and also what he thought of the afternoon entertainment. The business man tersely replied "Giggie, Gabbie, Gobbie and Git." /

A WEEK IN FAIRYLAND

Nobody ever entirely loses that childhood illusion of a land which surpasses in loveliness, surprises and happiness anything that the mind is capable of envisaging; the land of make-believe, which everyone hopes may someday become a reality. It is not too much to say that the glorious Rockies, Canada's great holiday territory, renowned throughout the world, are as close to this elusive dreamland as anything that mortal man is likely to discover. Special arrangements for the coming season now bring a week in this modern fairyland well within the reach of the average traveller, with Banff and Lake Louise, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, as base-points and a wide range of every varying scenery and cosy bungalow camps beyond. The "six-and-a-half days' tour" has already become a slogan among those planning their summer vacation, embracing, as it does, not only the two famous hotels at Banff and Lake Louise, but such well known points of interest and beauty as Johnston Canyon; Moraine Lake and the immortal Valley of the Ten Peaks; the Lakes in the Clouds; the Plain of the Six Glaciers; the Great Divide; Wapta Lake Bungalow

Camp; Yoho Valley and Bungalow Camp; Takakkaw Falls; the historic Kicking Horse; Mount Stephen; Emerald Lake and the wonders of the great mountains near Field, B.C. Easily reached from all points by Canadian Pacific Railway, main line points are linked with the camps in the inner mountains by the Brewster Transport Company, past masters in comfort and conveyance for the traveller in the valleys and passes of the mighty Rockies. Automobile drives, trail rides and hikes combine with bright entertainment in the evenings to make the holiday something to be remembered for a lifetime.

Anglo-American Good Will On Firmer Footing Now Than Ever Before, Says U. S. Paper

There is reason for believing that Anglo-American good will has got its roots struck more firmly into the solid ground of mutual respect and dignity than in earlier periods—even those when the plant seemed to be flowering most effulgently. Too frequently in the past one has detected a slight waxiness, a touch of artificiality, about its most brilliant petals. Before the World War the work of our own horticulturists was often tinged with a sense of inferiority and with the envy and irritation that go with it; while that of the British was not wholly free from a certain condescension. Amid the dazzling prosperity of the post-war world these roles were, perhaps, reversed. British statesmanship continued to found itself upon Anglo-American understanding, but the British people could not quite forgive us for being such a spectacular success in our own way.

Both moods have collapsed amid the sterner realities of the depression. A common adversity has given each people a better appreciation of the real qualities and greatnesses of the other than either enjoyed five years, or twenty-five years ago. The two nations regard each other with less sentimentality than they have sometimes felt, but with much less of ignorant irritation. Publicists who once amused themselves by laboring transatlantic foibles, who wasted their time in warning Americans against entanglement with perfidious Albion or Britons against engulfment in American mass production, are now dropping all that. Each nation now eagerly scans the opposite shore of the ocean, waiting to cheer every sign of progress in the other as possibly the first step toward recovery for both. Neither power, in short, is any longer overawed by or afraid of the other, there results an atmosphere in which friendship of the sturdy, unornamental but useful sort can grow and prosper.—New York Herald-Tribune.

Shows That Live Stock Was the Saving Factor

Industry Weathered this Year Better Than Other Products Of Farm Industry

The Review of the Live Stock Market and Meat Trade for 1931, just issued by the Markets Intelligence Service of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, states:

"The commercial meat animals industry weathered the year much better than any other major branch of farm industry. Indeed, saleable live stock, and with this, of course, we must include poultry, was to its possessor the saving factor in the year's business on the farm. At the opening of the new year, those producers who had included live stock in their 1931 programme, found themselves in a much more advantageous position than those who had not."

"Yes," returned Toogood, "I read in the paper today that a rhinoceros is worth £200."

Great Booster For Canada

Prince Of Wales Advises British Business Men To "Step Right Over"

Canada has a great booster in the Prince of Wales. His is the type of Canadian citizenship which might well be emulated to the advantage of the Dominion. Recently the magazine "Canada," published in London, quoted His Royal Highness as follows:

"Step right over and see Canada for yourself. Remember it takes only six days across the Atlantic and only a few more to each the Rockies and the Pacific Coast. And if your business cannot spare you, remember there are such things as business holidays."

There is a double intent in the Prince's invitation to the business men of the Old Country to "step right over" and see Canada. In it he appeals to their inclination for pleasure, but at the same time does not neglect their business instincts. With a suggestion of slyness he tells them to make the one wait on the other, and yet get the advantage of both, and to a man of affairs the possibility is arresting.

There is, as well, a desire to promote a greater interest in the Dominion and its trade potentialities. Quite recently the Prime Minister has made a similar proposal. He would have all the visitors to the Conference in July take a trip through Canada from coast to coast. He believes that were they to do so they would obtain a greater impression of the trade possibilities the Dominion has to offer and of the aspirations of the people. It is a great idea, and it is to be hoped that if their time permits many of them will adopt the suggestion. They may be sure of a very hearty welcome.—Regina Daily Star.

Flight Of Wild Geese

Bird Tagged By Jack Miner At Kingsville Found In B.C.

An idea of the vast stretches of territory covered by wild geese in their migratory flights was revealed in the finding in East Kootenay, B.C., of the charred bones of a goose.

On the leg of the bird, which apparently had perished in a bush fire, was a tag bearing the name of Jack Miner, Ontario naturalist. The bird at one time had sought shelter on the great bird sanctuary at Kingsville, and was fed by Miner. The tag and information concerning the incident were sent to Miner by a settler in an isolated district near where the bird was found.

Birds tagged by the naturalist have been found as far east as the Atlantic coast and from the Gulf of Mexico to Baffin's Land, but this is the first time one ever has been known to cross the Rocky Mountains.

Poultry Development

Dominion Poultry Official Believes Prospects Are Still Encouraging

F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, and outstanding leader in poultry development in Canada, on a recent occasion observed that few people realize what a big part the hen has played in the national life of Canada. "There are many prominent business men today who would not be where they are if it had not been for the hens on the farm at home," he states. "The poultry provided the money for shoes, and slates and pencils, and were in fact responsible for keeping them at school. I myself do not know of any other business today which pays better dividends than poultry raising, and I believe the prospects are still encouraging."

Future Development Of Western Canada Must Be Planned On a Scientific Basis

Working On Wheat To Resist Drought

University Of Alberta Installing Equipment For This Purpose

Resistance to drought is a new wheat breeding project which has been undertaken by O. S. Amodt, University of Alberta. Over a period of years, losses due to drought are probably as great as all the plant diseases combined. It has been estimated that during each of the last two years, the crop has been reduced by drought by 75 to 100 million bushels. Owing to the failure of crops to become established there is also the enormous loss in fertility due to soil drifting and the free growth of weeds. The National Research Council has given assistance in carrying out this project which will be under the direction of the associated committee in grain research. Except for some studies made at the University of Alberta on the fundamental nature of drought resistance in plants, little has been accomplished in Canada, but Russia has been intensively studying the problem for some time.

In this work artificial chinooks are created by a machine. This machine has been described by Dr. T. A. Tonor, of Russia, and similar equipment is being built at the University of Alberta. In this way everything including moisture, is controlled.

Cheese Is a Body Builder

Supplies a Muscle Building Food In Concentrated Form

Here is an interesting item prepared by the Milk Utilization Service of the Dominion Dairy and Cold Storage Branch. "Is cheese eaten for its flavour, or for its food value?" The low per capita consumption of cheese in Canada clearly indicates that the majority of people do not recognize it as a muscle-building food in concentrated form, but consider it merely as a condiment or garnish. It is interesting to note that one pound of cheese supplies almost as much protein and fat as one gallon of milk and, in addition, has a high calcium, phosphorous and vitamin content. The muscle building foods are limited in number, and, since it is necessary that the diet contain a percentage of this type of food, cheese should be more extensively used, particularly at a time when health and strength must be maintained on a lowered food budget.

Canadian Banking System

U.S. Senator Praises System Here In Comparison With That Of United States

The happy position of Canada's banking system as compared with that of the United States was dramatically placed before the United States senate by Carter Glass, of Virginia, former secretary of the treasury.

Glass was pressing his revision of the banking laws to permit branch banking in the United States.

Canada, he said, had not had one single bank failure "during this frightful depression" while in the United States 5,000 banks had gone under with losses during the past two years to depositors of $5,500,000,000.

For years treasury and currency experts have been attempting to get congress to permit branch banking. Their efforts have been so far successfully opposed by representatives of smaller communities and farming areas who believe in individual and personal banking.

You should know this about oil, says mechanic

The proper oiling of household devices presents a problem different from any other form of lubrication. Sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, lawn mowers, the electric motors of washers, fans, refrigerators and similar devices have a tendency to collect dirt and rust when not in service. Consequently oil intended for general household use should clean and protect as well as lubricate.

3-in-One Oil will do these three things. For, unlike ordinary oil, it is really three high quality oils in one—animal, mineral and vegetable. It penetrates quickly, cleans the metal surfaces, "stays put," reduces wear and saves repairs. It also prevents rust and tarnish.

Don't make the mistake of thinking "any kind of oil will do." Play safe; insist on 3-in-One Oil. Sold everywhere, by good grocery, hardware, drug and general stores. For your protection, look for the trade mark "3-in-One" printed in Red on every package.

Plan Trade Drive

Ontario To Place Sales Representatives In Winnipeg, Montreal and Maritime Provinces

As part of an intensive drive to secure a greater share of the Canadian market, the Ontario Department of Agriculture is placing sales representatives in Winnipeg, Montreal and Maritime Provinces, it was announced by Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture. The duties of these representatives, who will work through the agricultural council, will be to keep the department informed as to conditions in the various provinces, the volume of sales of Ontario agricultural products and the best means of increasing those sales.

Col. Kennedy declared that the government was launching a drive for more markets and that up till now much of the effort had been directed toward securing a better foothold in the British market. There was a big field for Ontario products in the other provinces of Canada, the minister believed. As to the British market, the Ontario Government already had a representative in London and at the present time W. B. Somerset, chairman of the agricultural board, was in the Old Country in the interests of Ontario trade.

JOSEPH THE DREAMER

Golden Text: "Take thought for things honorable in the sight of all men."—Romans 12:17.

Lesson: Genesis 37:1-11.
Devotional Reading: Proverbs 3:1-6.

Explanations and Comments

Joseph's Troubles With His Half-Brothers, verses 1-4.—The phrase "These are the generations of Jacob," means, "Here begins the history of Jacob's descendants (especially of Joseph)." Jacob was living quietly at Hebron. Joseph, the elder son of Jacob and Rachel, is a lad of seventeen when he comes into the picture. Joseph was "a lad with the sons of Bilhah and with the sons of Zilpah," an expression which Delitzsch understands as meaning that he was their attendant, their subordinate. Of course trouble would arise, for Bilhah and Zilpah were bondswomen and naturally jealous of Rachel, and their sons would, just as naturally, be jealous of Rachel's son. Joseph's task was to help these half-brothers feed the flock, for whose pasturage they were obliged to wander far and wide.

Joseph brought his father an evil report of these men. "We are not obliged to suppose that Joseph was a gratuitous tale-bearer, or that when he carried their evil report to his father he was actuated by an unworthy spirit. That he very well knew how to hold his tongue no man ever gave more adequate proof; but he that understands that there is a time to keep silence necessarily sees also that there is a time to speak. And no one can tell what torture that pure young soul may have endured in the remote pastures, when left alone to withstand, day after day, the outrage of these coarse and unscrupulous men."—Marcus Dods.

Another cause of trouble was the father's favoritism. Jacob had good reason to prefer Joseph to his brothers. Joseph was "a goodly person and well-favored," he was affectionate, bright and quick, ever ready to do his father's bidding. His brothers were fierce, sour, sordid men. Jacob could not help loving Joseph the most, but he could have kept from showing his preference. All children have equal claim upon a parent's care. Duty, common sense, reason should have guided Jacob in the treatment of his children; instead he was guided by his heart alone.

Jacob showed his partiality by giving Joseph a coat of many colors, thought to have been a sort of magisterial robe, such as was worn by those in authority, or by the rich who did no manual work, and in that case a virtual sign that Joseph, the next to the youngest of twelve sons, was given the birthright, the position belonging to the eldest. This lordly attire was always in evidence, and the brothers hated him and could not speak peaceably unto him.

"From bitterness preserve me, Lord; From jealous thoughts protect my day;
Against the stroke of envy's sword Help me to hold my way.

And grant my soul sufficient grace To gladden at another's prize,
And look upon his eager face With sympathetic eyes."

—Henry Robinson Palmer.

Diet Announced As Cure

Celiac, a Childhood Disease, Requires Only Good Food As Treatment

A cure for celiac disease without a drop of medicine was reported to the American Medical Association at New Orleans. Diet alone does it.

This disease is one of the pitiful ills of childhood, causing retarded growth, serious stomach disorders, growing weakness and, when too long neglected, almost certain death.

Predisposition to relapse had made it difficult to cope with. Dr. Sidney V. Haas of New York City, said there has not been one recurrence.

The new treatment is an example of the rapidly-developing science of finding in two or three common-place articles of food a regulator that enables the body to convert the entire diet into its natural "medicine."

One cause of celiac disease is a peculiar form of sugar starvation. No matter how much sugar a child eats the system cannot assimilate it, and the sweet only makes them worse. Dr. Haas found the sugar in ripe bananas can be eaten freely and that in the children's bodies it converts ordinary sugars into an agreeable form.

A teacher gave the following problem to her pupils: If a woman gathered five eggs a day, how many eggs would she gather in a week? After studying a few minutes, William, with a pained look finally asked:

"Miss—do hens lay eggs on Sunday?"

IN BED WITH BACKACHE

"Two years ago I suffered with severe pains in the small of my back, and could with difficulty hold myself upright. At times I had to go to bed for a week at a time. I went to and from hospital for 3 months, and they certainly did me good, but they told me they could not keep giving me medicine, but that I needed complete rest for 6 months, away from the children. I could not bring myself to be parted from the children, so I did not go to hospital any more. I started using Kruschen Salts and have had no trouble with my back since."—Mrs. W. Kruschen contains vital salts that go right down to the root cause of backache. Soon after you start on Kruschen, the sharpest pains of backache cease. As you persevere with the "little daily dose" the twinges become less and less frequent, until finally you hardly know what an ache or pain is. Then, if you're wise, you'll prevent the possibility of a relapse by continuing the tiny, tasteless pinch of Kruschen every morning.

She did not tell him why. But within herself she knew that no woman would ever be afraid with Geoffrey Burke. Afraid of him, possibly, but never afraid that he would not be entire master of any situation where in physical strength and courage were the paramount necessities.

She reflected a little grimly to herself that it was this very forcefulness which gave the man his unquestionable power of attraction. There is always a certain fascination in sheer, ruthless strength—a savour of magnificence about it, something tentatively heroic, which appeals irresistibly to that primitive instinct somewhere hidden in the temperamental make-up of even the most ultra-twentieth-century feminine product.

And Jean was quite aware that she herself was not altogether proof against the attraction of Burke's dynamic virility.

There was another kind of strength which appealed to her far more. She knew this, too. The still, quiet force that was Tormarin's—deep, and unfathomable, and silent, of the spirit as well as of the body. Contrasted with the savage power she recognized in Burke, it was like the fine, tempered steel of a rapier compared with a heavy bludgeon.

"A penny for your thoughts!"

Jean came out of her reverie with a start. She smiled.

"Don't get conceited. I was thinking about you."

"Nice thoughts, I hope, then?" suggested Burke. "It's better" — audaciously—"to think well of your future husband."

The old gipsy's words flashed into Jean's mind:

"You're bound together so fast and firm as wedding-ring could bind 'ee," and her face flamed scarlet.

It was true—at least as far as she was concerned—that no wedding-ring could bind her more firmly to Blaise than her own heart had already bound her.

The instinct to flirt with Burke was in abeyance. It was an instinct only born of heartache and unhappiness, and now that Blaise's mood was so much less cool and distant than it had been, the temptation to play with unexploded bombs had correspondingly lost much of its charm.

"Don't be tiresome, Geoffrey," she said vexedly. "If only you would make up your mind to be—just pals,

I should think much better of you." "Then I'm afraid you'll have to think worse," he retorted.

Just at that moment they encountered a flock of sheep, ambling leisurely along towards them and blocking up the narrow roadway, and Jean was spared the necessity of replying by the fact that Burke immediately found his hands full, manoeuvring a path for the mare between the broad, curly backs of the bleating multitude.

The drover of the flock was, of course, a hundred yards or more behind his charges, negligently occupied in relighting his pipe, so that no assistance was to be looked for in that direction, and as the sheep bumped against the mare's legs and crowded up against the wheels of the trap in their characteristically maddening fashion, it required all Burke's skill and dexterity to make a way through the four-footed crowd.

The chestnut's own idea of dealing with the difficulty was to charge full speed ahead, an idea which by no means facilitated matters, and she fought her bit and fairly danced with fury as Burke checked her at almost every yard.

They had nearly reached the open road again, and Jean, looking down on the sea of woolly backs, with the hovering cloud of hoof-driven dust above them, thought she could fully appreciate the probable feelings of the Israelites as they approached the further shore of the Red Sea. And it was just at this inauspicious moment that the drover, having lit his pipe to his satisfaction, looked up and grasped the situation.

Guiltily conscience not only makes cowards, but is also prolific in the creation of fools, and the drover, stung into belated action by the consciousness of previous remissness, promptly did the most foolish thing he could.

He let off a yell that tore its way through every quivering nerve in the mare's body, and with a shout of, "Round 'em, lad!" sent his dog—a half-trained youngster—barking like a creature possessed, full tilt in pursuit of the sheep.

That settled it as far as the chestnut was concerned. With a bound she leapt forward, scattering the two or three remaining sheep that still blocked her path, and the next moment the light, high cart was rocking like a cockle-shell in a choppy sea, as she tore along, utterly out of hand.

Luckily, for a couple of miles the road ran straight as a dart, and after the first gasp of alarm Jean found herself curiously collected and able to calculate chances. At the end of the two miles, she knew, there came a steep declivity—a typical Devonshire hill, like the side of a house, which the British workman had repaired in his usual crude and inefficient manner, so that loose stones and inequalities of surface added to the dangers of negotiation. At the foot of this descent was a sharp double turn—a veritable death-trap. Could Burke possibly get the mare in hand before they reached the brow of the hill? Jean doubted it.

There was no sound now in all the world except the battering of the mare's hoofs upon the road and the screaming rush of the wind in their ears. The hedges flew past, a green, distorted blur. The strip of road fled away beneath them as though coiled up by some swift revolving cylinder; ahead, it ended sheer against a sky blue as a periwinkle, and into that blue they were rushing at thirty miles an hour. When they reached it, it would be the end. Jean could almost hear the crash that must follow, sense the sickening feeling of being flung headlong, hurled into space . . . hurtling down into black nothingness . . .

Her glance sought Burke's face. His jaw was outthrust, and she could guess at the clenched teeth behind the lips that shut like a rat-trap. His eyes gleamed beneath the penthouse brows, drawn together so that they almost met above his fighting beak of a nose.

In an oddly detached manner she found herself reflecting on the dogged brute strength of his set face. If anyone could check that flying, foam-flecked form, rocketing along between the shafts like a red-brown streak, he could.

She wondered how long he would be able to hold the beast—to hang on? She remembered having heard that, after a time, the strain of pulling against a runaway becomes too much for human nerves and muscles, and that a man's hands grow numb—and helpless! While the dead pull on the bit equally numbs the mouth of the horse, so that he, too, has no more any feeling to be played upon by the pressure of the bit.

Her eyes dropped to Burke's hands. With a little inward start of astonishment she realized that he was not attempting to pull against the chestnut. He was just holding . . . holding . . . steadying her, ever so little, in her mad gallop. Jean felt the mare swerve, then swing level again, still answering faintly to the reins.

Burke's hands were very still. She wondered vaguely why—now—he didn't pit his strength against that of the runaway. They must have covered a mile or more. A bare half-mile was all that still lay between them and disaster.

And then, as she watched Burke's hands, she saw them move, first one and then the other, saw the bit against the tender corners of the mare's mouth. Jean was conscious of a faint difference in the mad pace of her. Not enough to be accounted a check—but still something, some appreciable slackening of the whirlwind rush towards that blue blur of sky ahead.

It seemed as though Burke, too,

"When I was 16 I was so ill my people thought I was going to die," writes Mrs. Annie Wilson, Sussex Ave., Toronto. "I had scarcely any blood, and was so weak I could hardly walk. Had no appetite and I lost ground every day for a long time, until a friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got them, and before I had finished the first box I was feeling much better. I continued taking the Pills until I was completely well. I went to all the dances and had the time of my life again. I certainly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any one who is anaemic or run-down in any way, for they certainly rebuilt my health."

sensed that infinitesimal yielding to the saw of the bit. For the first time, he gave a definite pull at the reins. Then he relaxed the pressure, and again there followed the same sawing motion and the fret of the steel bar against sensitive, velvet lips. Then another pull—the man's sheer strength against the mare's . . . Jean watched, fascinated.

And gradually, almost imperceptibly at first, the frenzied beat of the iron-shod hoofs became more measured as the chestnut shortened her stride. It was no longer merely the thrashing, thunderous devil's tattoo of sheer, panic-driven speed.

Now and again Jean could hear Burke's voice, speaking to the frightened beast, chiding and reassuring in even, unhurried tones.

She was conscious of no fear, only of an absorbing interest and excitement as to whether Burke would be able to impose his will upon the animal before they reached that precipitous hill the descent of which must infallibly spell destruction.

She sat still, her hands locked together, watching . . . watching . . .

Free Time Tables

Should the Canadian railways make a charge to the public for time-tables? This point was raised in the Commons Railway Committee. In Great Britain a small charge is made, but Sir Henry Thornton doubted if it would be possible to do so in Canada. The universal custom on the North American continent is to provide time tables free. The result is that very often they are taken by people who do not require them.

Baltimore Repeals Old Laws

Made When State Was Founded Two Hundred Years Ago

Baltimore, by the largest vote ever given a question or a candidate, has repealed its 200-year-old Sunday observance laws, which even precluded a man's kissing his wife on the Sabbath.

By a majority of more than 83,000, the city wiped off its books the Sunday laws which were born with the Maryland legal code when the Calverts founded the state, and for the first time, can go to moving picture shows, sport events, and make certain retail purchases legally next Sunday.

TRUTH OF THE GREAT PYRAMID

the passage way to the king's chamber told just when the great World war would start and when it would close. There is still another important date given in the pyramid, and that is May 30, 1928. Just what will happen on that date I will not predict, but, according to the pyramid it will be a momentous one for the human race. The pyramid has not lied yet in any of its predictions and many who have studied the passage carefully, are convinced that it will not lie in this. The condition of the world today and the way it is heading will culminate just as the pyramid predicts, but the date—May 30, 1928—is it correct? Time will tell.

(Editors Note)—This prediction was true. It marked the beginning of the present depression and it certainly has "been a momentous one for the human race." It has been felt in every country in the world. Future predictions of the Great Pyramid are based on the next great date, July 1936, and it is believed by many that this date will see the end of this depression. Will we have to wait so long?
